

QUALITATIVE & QUANTITATIVE WRITING PROMPTS

- + (Take the class outside) Describe something in the area?
- + (Take the class into the hallway) Describe a person in the hallway? What do they look like? What are they doing? What can you deduce about them?
- + (Take the person into the library) Describe a person in the library? What do they look like? What are they doing? What can you deduce about them?
- + (Take the class into the hallway) Count the number of people you see who pass by you.
- + Make up a quick survey, which you might offer someone on a first date. Then, administer it to a partner in class (please keep the questions clean).
- + Count the number of males and females in the classroom. Then, count the different types of shoes, pants, shirts, and over-garments (coats, jackets, sweatshirts, etc.).
- + Now, attempt to make a table which attempts to organize this information/these variables.
