

COMMA SPLICES (SPLICES) EXERCISE #1

Indicate S for Splice or C for correct. If the sentence contains a splice, rewrite the sentence to correct the concern.

_____ 1. Many religions exist, religious faiths are abound.

_____ 2. Some religions are centered on deity worship, others are motivated by codes of conduct and the belief in an afterlife.

_____ 3. Islam, Judaism, and Christianity are monotheistic religions, monotheistic religions believe in one deity.

_____ 4. Hinduism, Shinto, Wicca, and Buddhism are polytheistic, polytheistic religions focused on many deities.

_____ 5. While most religions focus on deity worship, codes of conduct are also important, many religions include religious texts with didactic value.

_____ 6. Didactic values refer to the teaching of morals, lessons, or codes, such teachings reinforce cultural codes and ethics.

_____ 7. The Mosaic law: "Thou shall not kill" is found everywhere. This cultural code is found in many religions.

_____ 8. This simple precept can also be found in stories in almost every major religion in the world.

_____ 9. In Tibetan Buddhism, for example, some texts share similar messages, one text suggests: "If you kill a person who seeks happiness, you will never find happiness"

_____ 10. Some religions provide for the belief in an afterlife, the afterlife is often considered a divine and positive place one resides after dying.

_____ 11. In Christianity, Islam, and Judaism, the afterlife is commonly referred to as Heaven or paradise.

_____ 12. In Buddhism, Jainism, and Hinduism, the afterlife is commonly referred to as Nirvana.

_____ 13. However, paths to the afterlife differ in many ways, in Buddhism the path to Nirvana is based on releasing the self from things like greed, desire, and ill intent.

_____ 14. In other religions, adherence to the prescribed code of conduct is the way to the afterlife.
